

NAME OF THE EVENT: WATER ROCKETRY

Description:

Water rocketry involves creating rockets using water as a propellant. These rockets typically consist of a plastic bottle partially filled with water, pressurized air, and a launch system. When the air pressure builds up inside the bottle, it forces the water out through a nozzle, generating thrust and launching the rocket into the air.